Dear Parents/Carers

Threatened Species Art Competition 2019 Permission to publish due in Wednesday 31 July

As part of our Education Week activities, all Kentlyn students will be displaying artwork they have created for the 2019 Humane Society International's Threatened Species Art Competition. This competition helps children unleash their artistic creativity while learning about the extinction crisis facing our native plants and animals. It aims to encourage the next generation of environmental leaders.

The work will be displayed for parents and the community to view during Education Week (Week 3, Term 3).

Entries will be selected by class teachers on Wednesday, 31st July, 2019. A copy of the artwork and an accompanying short statement about the work written by the student will be uploaded onto the competitions website by Friday 2nd August.

If you would like your child's work to be considered for this competition please complete the section below and return by Wednesday 31 July. Please note that ALL student work will still be displayed at the school for parents and community viewing.

Further information regarding the competition can be found at <http://www.threatenedspeciesartcomp.net.au/>.

Only students who have returned their permission note will be able to be entered into the competition. Unfortunately, no late entries can be accepted.

Yours sincerely,

Tracey Rogers
